HISTORY

Zieger & Sons, Inc. was founded in 1910 by Ernst Zieger when he purchased a greenhouse business in the Germantown section of Philadelphia. Ernst's sons Herman and Wilbur took over his dream and Zieger & Sons prospered. They expanded this fledgling business, opening a large greenhouse range in Willow Grove, Pennsylvania in 1924 for the purpose of growing only roses. They later expanded the wholesale operation into Philadelphia in 1930 and added branches in Allentown in 1937, Reading in 1939 and Harrisburg in 1958.

The third generation of Ziegers joined the company in the 1960s, and again Zieger & Sons expanded. To supplement their rose production in Willow Grove, they opened a second range in Eastville, Virginia in 1981.

Four great-grandsons joined the company in the 1990s, adding their talents. As the company moved into the 21st century, they have again led the way by offering retail customers online access to flowers from top quality farms around the world.

Zieger & Sons continues to be dedicated to being the best wholesale distributor, using technology to help make it a leading force in the industry both in terms of delivering a wide assortment of fine quality cut flowers as well as distinguished customer service.
